Fail to Pole Enough Votes in Massachusetts Gubernatorial Race

MAJORITY DECREASES

Vote Against Suffrage in Pennsylvania Drops Thruout the Whole Day

G. O. P. GAINS IN NEW JERSEY

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The dropping of the majority against woman suffrage in Pennsylvania to approximately 50,000 and the failure of the Progressives to poll enough votes in the Massachusetts gubernatorial race to maintain their legal standing as a political party, are the outstanding features of the latest returns from yesterday's state elections in that east. Thruout today the majority against suffrage in Pennsylvania, estimated at times as high as 200,000 decreased. This was the additional news that 25 out of 67 counties in the state had carried for suffrage gave its supporters great encouragement.

McCall's Majority is 6,600.
The Massachusetts Progressives polled only a few more than 7,000 votes, about one third as many as the prohibitionists. The majority of Samuel W. McCall, Republican, over his Democratic opponent, David I. Walsh, in the race for the governorship was 6,600.

Maryland returns continued to indicate that Emerson C. Harrington, Democrat, had defeated Ovington A. Weller, Republican. Harrington's majority probably will be between 3,000 and 3,500.

Suffrage was beaten in New York by more than 175,000 and the revised constitution by more than 450,000.

The Republicans elected William S. Bennett, a Republican to congress from a Democratic district the 23rd. Republicans also elected 98 out of the 150 state assemblymen.

General legislative gains were recorded by the Republicans in New Jersey.

Suffrage Vote Decreases.

New York, Nov. 3.—Late returns show that suffrage probably will be beaten in this state by more than 175,000 while the majority against the adoption of the revised constitution may be in excess of 450,000. Up-state votes today decreased the suffrage vote and increased it against the constitution.

The personnel of the assembly appears to be settled. There will be 7 Republicans, 50 Democrats, one Progressive-Democrat and one Socialist. This will be a loss one each for the Republicans and the Progressives and a gain of one each for the Democrats and the Socialist.

Tammany is joyful over the outcome in New York county, having elected Judge Edward Swann, district attorney, Alfred E. Smith, sheriff and a majority of the board of aldermen.

Unofficial Vote in Maryland.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 3.—Practically complete unofficial returns tonight on yesterday's election gave the following vote for governor:

COURT MARTIAL MAY BRING GENERAL PROBE

ARMY AVIATION SYSTEM MAY BE SUBJECT OF INQUIRY

State Capt. Cowan Knew Aeroplanes in San Diego School Were Unsafe and That Officers Assigned to Duty Were Not Warned.

San Francisco, Nov. 3.—The court martial of Colonel Louis E. Goodier, on trial for alleged conduct subversive to military discipline, is expected to develop into a general inquiry into the entire aviation system of the United States army.

In opening for the defense today it was stated that Capt. A. S. Cowan, commanding the aviation school at San Diego, knew the aeroplanes in use there were unsafe and that officers assigned to aviation duty were not warned. Eight officers have been killed there since January, 1913. It is charged against Col. Goodier that he wrongly advised officers of the aviation school in preferring charges.

The testimony of Capt. T. P. Dodd, attracted attention at today's session. At the Brownsville, Texas, aviation school, where Dodd commands, some of the aeroplanes have new wings and parts. They were supplied free, he said, by the makers after he had reported to Lieut.-Col. Samuel Reber that the machines were unsafe. Capt. Dodd said this made him believe the manufacturers knew the machines were not "up to standard."

Capt. Dodd went to Brownsville from San Diego and while at the latter school, according to his testimony, saw an expert's report to Capt. Reber declaring the type of machine there in use unsafe if tilted at a greater angle than one in ten. Two accidents have occurred at San Diego, the witness said, since this report was made.

NOTE CONTAINS SHARP PASSAGES

Lansing Emphatic in Pro- test Against Features of Orders-in-Council

OBJECTS TO DETENTION

Issues Are Not Regarded as Beyond the Reach of Diplomatic Treatment at This Stage

SENT BY SPECIAL MESSENGER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—At the instance of the British embassy, copies of the latest American note to Great Britain protesting against interferences with neutral shipping will be handed to the British ambassador and the French ambassador in Washington simultaneously with the delivery of the note by Ambassador Page in the British foreign office. This is in recognition of the fact that France is equally concerned with Great Britain in the subject matter of the note having by official orders of the French admiralty adopted the British rules governing seizure and detention of neutral ships and cargoes substantially without change.

It is learned that Secretary Lansing's note contains some sharp passages and is very emphatic in condemnation and protest against several features of the British orders in council. Objection is made particularly to that part of the British order in council under which cruisers have diverted from their voyages and detained for long periods in British ports American vessels bound for neutral ports of northern Europe. It is held under the general principles of international law that while these vessels might properly be stopped and searched on the high seas they should not be taken to distant ports for examination at great loss to the ship owners and the British authorities possess information that absolute contraband is included in their cargoes.

Though the issues are understood to be strongly presented by the United States they are not regarded as beyond the reach of diplomatic treatment at this stage. It already has been intimated by Sir Edward Grey in the British parliament that the whole subject may be rapidly nearing a phase when a peaceful and satisfactory adjustment can be reached only by means of an international commission. The American note has been sent to London by special messenger and probably will be delivered to the foreign office by Ambassador Page this week.

GEN. VILLA'S PLANS PUZZLE CALLES

Carranza Commander at Loss to Know Whether Attack Will Be Renewed

VILLA TROOPS RETREAT

American Officers Believe Cam- paign on West Coast is Contemplated

GEN. FUNSTON WARNS VILLA

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Nov. 3.—Whether General Francisco Villa intends to renew his attack on Agua Prieta or turn his attention to the task of seizing the western coast cities of Guaymas and Mazatlan which would give him ports for obtaining much needed supplies, is a problem that is puzzling both the American army officers here and the Carranza forces in Agua Prieta. The Villa army early today commenced its retreat from Agua Prieta toward Naco and tonight that little town reported that the hundred Villa troops had already reached that point. Approximately 4,000 others were reported as having been seen along the road leading toward Naco. It is known that Villa agents have been endeavoring to purchase much needed supplies of flour and corn and preparations have been made at Naco to take care of those wounded in Monday's fight.

Succeeds in Getting Water.

On the other hand, General Alcala's scouts report that the main body of Villa's army, reinforced during the day by an unknown number of men from the east is still within a few miles of Agua Prieta, while the forces of General Urbalejo, the Yaqui chieftain, numbering about 1,500 are still farther to the west. Villa has succeeded in getting water to Caladones and Anavacachi and limited food supplies have also reached him. All day long wagons loaded with supplies of ammunition have been passing from the east.

Every preparation was made in Agua Prieta today for another attack. General Funston, commanding American forces also made preparations late today by posting troops at vantage points in Douglas and moving them from immediate contact with the border.

Send Infantry to Naco.

Two or three companies of infantry were sent to Naco during the day. The general opinion among American army officers is that Villa rarely "nibbles" at Agua Prieta and finding it much tougher than he expected, will now ignore it, with its much coveted supplies of provisions and ammunition and will strike thru Hermosillo and Magdalena to the west coast for a campaign of greater importance.

A brief interview between General Funston and General Villa took place yesterday over the barbed wire fence marking the international line a short distance from Agua Prieta. At that time General Villa assured General Funston that he wished to avoid bringing American troops into the conflict. What also was said is not known. General Funston would not talk.

Interview Much to the Point.

One report was that the interview, the brief and formal was very much to the point. General Villa was told very plainly it was said, that another occurrence like that of Monday night, when hundreds of bullets struck on the American side and several Americans were hit would result in serious trouble for Villa and his army.

What little firing there was today was done mostly by the forces in Agua Prieta. A Calles' scouting party bumped into a Villa machine gun this morning with disastrous effects to Calles' forces. The three inch guns of Agua Prieta threw several dozen shells at the Villa forces moving west. Six hundred Carranza cavalry were sent eastward before noon to capture two Villa field pieces left in position because the horses had been killed, but they were repulsed by a Villa guard estimated at 500.

Major Louis Block of General Calles' staff said six Carranza soldiers had been killed today but did not say whether they had been lost by the scouting party or in the attack on the Villa guns.

He described their apartments, told of leaving the prison for West Baden on the evening before Mrs. Allen met her death, and said the failure of her dressmaker to deliver a new gown had prevented Mrs. Allen from leaving with him on the trip.

Robert W. Martin, state's attorney, in his opening address argued that the evidence disclosed would have made it impossible for any other person to have been in Mrs. Allen's quarters at the time her bed was saturated with alcohol and set afire.

ALLIES SEND MORE TROOPS TO SERBIA

British and French Trans- ports Are Arriving Daily at Saloniki

LAND TROOPS AT KAVALA

Diplomats Continue Efforts to Secure Support of Greece and Roumania for Serbia

DRIVE PROCEEDING SLOWLY

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The vigorous support which Herbert H. Asquith, the British premier and Aristide Briand, the new French premier, have promised Serbia seemingly is about to be realized. Besides the Anglo-French troops, including British cavalry, who already are in Southern Serbia, British and French transports are arriving daily at Saloniki and troops from them are being sent up the country immediately to attempt to check the Bulgarian march from Velez toward Monastir, while other transports, according to a Sofia dispatch, have landed troops at Kavala, a Greek port on the Aegean Sea near the Bulgarian border. At the same time the diplomats continue their efforts to secure the support of Greece and Roumania for Serbia, who fought with them in the last Balkan war.

Drive Proceeding Slowly.

As time passes, however, Serbia's position grows more critical. The Austro-German drive from the north is proceeding slowly, but surely, while two Bulgarian armies are approaching Nish, from which place the Serbian government has moved to Mistrovitz, near the Montenegrin frontier.

The Serbians, nevertheless are fighting stern defensive battles and from the German accounts it is apparent their main armies are making good their retreat and leaving, as the Russians did in Galicia and Poland, very little except what cannot be moved—for the invaders.

There is no further news of the Russian expedition which several days ago was reported off Varna, Bulgaria's chief seaport. The opinion is held in the Entente allied countries that Roumania, where there is continued agitation in favor of intervention on their side, will allow the forces of Emperor Nicholas to move across her territory. If this decision is reached it is believed it will be influenced by the activity of the Russian army in Galicia, where, according to the Russian official reports, General Ivanoff has won another victory over the Tatars on the Stripa river.

Russ Make Series of Attacks.

Further north in Volhynia, there is also heavy fighting and the Russians claim to have checked an Austro-German offensive which had as its object the capture of Czartysk. In fact all along the eastern front the Russians, according to the German official report, are making a series of attacks from the Gulf of Riga to Roumania. It is admitted the Germans were compelled to withdraw their lines in the lake district but the other Russian attacks are claimed to have been repulsed.

In the west unfavorable weather is interfering with the operations. Both French and British submarines are now in the Sea of Marmora, where the French submarine Turquoise was recently sunk by the Turks.

The burgoon picnic given Wednesday by the business men of Jacksonville in honor of their former friends was a success in every way. The attendance was large and the arrangements made under the direction of Mr. Weber were of such a kind that thousands were served without confusion. Incidentally the visitors enjoyed examining the goods displayed in the park, and many of them had occasion to visit the stores. But the greatest benefit of the gathering was the contribution made toward the general good feeling between the town and country people. To the substantial farmers of Morgan county the giving of burgoon soup, delicious as it was, meant nothing because of the intrinsic value of the gift, but the good will and friendly spirit evidenced by the eatables were important and the farmers appreciated them. Many a farmer expressed himself as greatly pleased with the courtesy extended and then went on to talk about the advantage of the city is to the surrounding country and how necessary to the city is the farming community.

In other words, the affair helped along toward even more cordial relationships than in the past. Jacksonville is nothing more than an overgrown town or village. Many of the very best citizens moved here from their farms, and not a week passes but some farmer leaves his country home to become a resident of Jacksonville and possibly thereafter maintains two homes. In reality the people of Jacksonville and of Morgan county outside of Jacksonville are chips from the same block, and anything which helps to emphasize this fact and to impress it on both city and country people is contributing to the general good.

Re-paving in Springfield

Springfield according to the Register in that city, is facing something of the same problem that confronts Jacksonville—the necessity of repaving a number of the principal streets. The first pavement laid in that city was in 1882 when cedar blocks were used. It was not many years until the citizens found that while the blocks made very desirable pavements, that brick was more economical material to use. The Register says that brick pavements, like everything else in this world, have a limited life, and that many of the Springfield pavements laid 15 years ago or more are showing the signs of age and need repaving badly. This is true especially on some of the streets in the business district where the traffic is heavy. The Register goes on to say very truly, "It was a wise man who once said, when the resumption of specie payment was the question agitating the people of this country. The way to resume is to resume."

The same principle is applicable to paving, and the way to repave is to repave. Where there's a will there's a way. The people of Springfield are rich enough if they only think so to repave their streets, either by resurfacing them or by putting down new material. The work of repaving

Rippling Rhymes By WALT MASON

FOR REVENUE ONLY.

We cannot truly love the man whose business is his idol; it shapes his every act and plan, it is his spur and bridle. He beams upon the little chaps, and, while he's looking sunny, he thinks, "They'll tell their dads, perhaps, and I will get their money." He gives some nickles to the poor with freedom, when he is absolutely sure 'twill bring him advertising. He'll stand up strong for any cause which may have raised a flutter, if it will help him sell some saws, some calico or butter. On Sunday to the church he wends, and thinks, while hymns are ringing, "It's good to make these people friends—new trade they will be bringing." When some one dies he sheds a tear, as one left sad and lonely, but while he weeps above the bier, he thinks of income only. "The mourners have all kinds of kale, their trade is well worth gaining, and so I'll whoop around and wail, my lungs and larynx spraining." We find this man in every clime, and with gold bricks we rate him; he puts it over for a time, but in the end we hate him.

must be done as fast as needed. This is the time for our citizens to give the subject their thoughtful and earnest consideration, bearing in mind that the way to repave is to repave. There is an extensive pavement mileage in Jacksonville which is in such a bad condition that it is a serious menace to the business of the community, and it is gratifying to know that the board of local improvement has in mind improvements on the street where the repaving is the most needed. A new pavement always results in other physical betterments, and the condition of a city's pavements can usually be taken as a correct barometer of the city's general business and financial condition. When public improvements are first made it sometimes seems to the property owners that the costs are excessive, but the experience of this and every other city goes to prove that public improvements pay. They give life to any community and the city which does not pay attention to its physical well being soon begin to decline in more ways than one.

After Traffic Violators.

The campaign which the department of public health and safety is to wage against speeders is well worth while and needed. Considering the number of automobiles there are in the city and surrounding territory, the number of accidents on city streets have been few, indeed. But unless car drivers occasionally have the matter brought to their attention in a forcible way, there is a tendency toward rapid driving, and the determination of city officials to arrest and fine speeders is commendable.

It is understood that the system to be used is to have a motorcycle policeman equipped with speedometer who will trail and secure the necessary evidence against them. Arrests will not be made at once, but after a list of violators has been secured, then the whole bunch will be arrested and haled into court and fined. Commissioner Martin has not announced that this will be the system but the plan has been tried successfully in some other cities.

The great danger of speeding along city streets is that there are so many crossings, and the further fact, that pedestrians, especially children, cross the streets at most any point regardless as to whether there is any regularly maintained crossing there. One frequent complaint against automobile drivers is because of the blinding automobile lights. With the increasing number of cars there is some justification for this complaint. An auto light which strikes a person in the face has almost a blinding effect, and pedestrians sometimes become confused and hardly know which way to turn. The effect is equally bad if the light happens to strike the face of an other driver, and the time will come when an ordinance requiring dimmers will be effective. Such a rule would be of aid in securing greater safety both for car drivers and for people who are walking.

Mention has been made before of the section of the traffic ordinance which is frequently violated and not so often noted in the past. The section referred to is the one which requires an automobile driver to stop when a street car has stopped or is receiving or discharging passengers. A strict adherence to this rule is necessary for the public safety.

Republicans in Winning Form.

The election returns in the east Tuesday were such as to give confidence to the Republican party and inspire them with the hope that there will be a united front in the battle with Democracy in 1916. New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Ohio and New Jersey saw distinct Republican gains and the result is the most significant in Massachusetts and in the president's own state of New Jersey. In Massachusetts the administration used every effort to re-elect Gov. Walsh but he was defeated by Mr. McCall. The Republicans have control of the legislature by an increased majority.

Politicians of both parties agree that returns indicate a decided slump in the Progressive party movement and give an indication of the desire of the Republicans to "get together." While this spirit of harmony will be very unsatisfactory to Democracy, and they will probably use every effort possible to sow seeds of dissension, the lesson of the last convention and the three years succeeding are not likely to be forgotten, and past differences will be blotted out in the realization that for the good of the party and for the prosperity of the country that the Republicans must unite in action.

The defeat of the suffrage question by such overwhelming majorities is said not to have discouraged suffrage leaders but believed that by having the question voted upon that it would receive a large amount of desirable agitation which would be beneficial in subsequent battles. To one faction of the suffragist movement the result was quite satisfactory in that it gave pretty good proof that the highest hopes of the suffrage movement must be based upon a national amendment rather than upon individual state action.

The defeat of the proposed new constitution for New York was not very much of a surprise. The changes proposed, while they would mark a distinct advance in New York's governmental affairs, were quite radical and removed so much power from the hands of the political leaders that it was to be expected that a great deal of opposition would develop when the question was put to a vote of the people.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS.

Boston—Among the American doctors who played a prominent part in combating the dreaded typhus scourge in war-racked Serbia is Dr. Louise Taylor-Jones, who recently returned to Boston. For three months while thousands of men, women and children were dying with typhus, Mrs. Taylor-Jones risked her life in the Serbian villages and earned the name "The American angel of the Serbs." Before leaving for home she established a hospital for babies at Nish, with the financial backing of Mme. Mabel Grouitch, the American wife of a high Serbian official.

Troy, N. C.—Teaching mountain children the arts of handicraft is the new position of Miss Mary H. Large of Chicago. She is a field teacher and worker, under the auspices of the Southern Industrial Educational Association, and she is going from one village to another showing the women and children the better method of weaving and basket-making.

Washington—Miss Edith Benham, daughter of the late Rear Admiral Benham, U. S. N., is to be the new social secretary at the White House, it is said. Miss Benham is acting in that capacity for Mrs. Galt, and she is accomplished and popular, and is well versed in Washington etiquette. Miss Benham will succeed Miss Isabel A. Hagner, whose resignation follows her engagement.

Hoopeston, Ill.—Because she was too strenuous in her endeavors to rid the town of night prowlers, Mrs. Agnes Frisinger, the police matron and moral guardian of Hoopeston, must find new fields to conquer. The women of the town are making a fight to have her retained, although she was dismissed by vote of the city council. It is said that the mayor was going home late at night when he was stopped by the police woman, who was hiding. After rigidly questioning him, she let him go. But the mayor was let down light. She caused the resignation of two police officers, including the chief. With a flashlight and a gun she went slouching at night, and she rattled the bones of many family skeletons.

New York—Miss Rose Bower, the Suffragist bugler, who finishes her strenuous campaign for "the cause" here today, is going right back to her 2200 acre ranch in South Dakota. She lives in the foothills of the Black Hills. She operates her own ranch, but took a few months off to help her afflicted sisters of the East to fight for "freedom." She says she likes her ranch best when she gets away and thinks of it.

Seattle—Miss Reah M. Whitehead now a successful judge in Seattle, began her business career as a stenographer in a law office in her home town. She was inspired to study law nights. Finally she was admitted to the bar and became a law clerk and then in a modest way began to try cases in court. So successful was she that before long she became deputy prosecuting attorney, which office she held through two administrations.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Gov. Dunne Guest of Honor at Informal Reception
The informal reception given Wednesday night in honor of Gov. Edward E. Dunne and party, by Mr. and Mrs. George E. Doying at Colonial Inn was a most delightful event. Mr. and Mrs. Doying received with Gov. Dunne, Hon. and Mrs. Edward L. Merritt and Mr. A. R. Roach, private auditor for the governor. More than a hundred persons were present to meet the guests of honor. Those assisting in entertaining were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Worthington, Miss Lydia M. Barrette, Mr. and Mrs. Felix E. Farrell, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Waddell, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Heintz, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Doying, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Vickery. The reception rooms were radiant with light and color and in the dining room pink roses were used with especially artistic effect.
Gov. Dunne and party arrived from Springfield about 5 o'clock by automobile and were with Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Hill at Jacksonville State Hospital for an hour. At six-thirty they were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Doying on Pine street, the only other guests being members of the family.
The governor was especially enthusiastic over Mrs. Read's concert program and said he had not realized when he accepted the invitation to attend, what a musical treat awaited him. He is thoroughly interested in musical affairs and knows good music. It was cause for regret that Mrs. Dunne was unable to come to Jacksonville as she had planned. The serious illness of her mother in Chicago, made her presence there necessary.

W. F. M. S. of Franklin Hold Regular Meeting
The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Franklin Methodist church met yesterday. Mrs. William Brewer had charge of the program and a review of the "King's Highway" was given by Mrs. William Rees and Mrs. M. B. Keplinger. Mrs. J. O. ### Dr. Widenham Host at Burgeo Dinner.

The boarding house of Miss Ellen Mapes has always been noted for the desirable character of its patrons, their sociability and good feeling and this was happily exemplified yesterday when Dr. Widenham, who invited his tablemates to enjoy a burgeo dinner in rooms adjacent to his suite of offices in the second story of the building owned by him on the south side of the square.
The table was handsomely decorated in pink carnations and ferns and the bill of fare was burgeo secured from the great feast in the park with apples and mints added. After the meal had been enjoyed it was decided to have some speaking and H. P. Green was requested to act as toastmaster and he required all at the table to offer remarks. He eloquently expressed the thanks of the guests to their entertainer and the doctor responded in a feeling manner.
The doctor's guests were Mrs. I. C. Coleman, Miss Irene Sandberg, H. P. Green, Mrs. Laura A. Reeting of Chicago, Miss Ruth Bailey, Mrs. W. A. Watts of Davenport, Iowa, Miss Gertrude M. Sheehan of Emerson, Neb., Thomas Stevenson, W. D. Wood and Ewen I. Whitlock.

OPERATIC CONCERT WAS FINE SUCCESS

MRS. HELEN BROWN READ ABLY ASSISTED ON PROGRAM

Entertainment for Benefit of Morgan County Anti-Tuberculosis League and Open Air School—Over $400 Were Receipts of the Evening.

A large audience augmented by many visitors from out of the city, including Gov. Edward F. Dunne and party from Springfield, attended the Operatic Concert which was given last night at the Opera House, as a benefit for the Morgan County Anti-Tuberculosis league and Open Air school. Mrs. Helen Brown Read was the leading attraction and she was supported by the Illinois Conservatory orchestra, assisted by Miss Mabel Louis Gieckler, reader, of the Illinois Woman's college, and Miss Mabel F. Mathews, vocalist.

There was not a vacant seat in the opera house and the audience was certainly a compliment to Mrs. Read and for the cause for which she so generously contributed her services. Jacksonville people have become accustomed to looking forward to a musical evening of rare enjoyment when it is announced that Mrs. Read will sing and the expectation was no less sincere upon her appearance last night. She was in splendid voice and her artistic singing found a response in the hearts of the people. After all it is the singer who gets next to the heart that wins, and how delightful was every number in which she appeared last night. The program consisted of descriptive lectures of various operas, by Miss Gieckler, whose interpretations were most excellent indeed. These lectures led the way for Mrs. Brown, who gave a selection from the various operas. She has sung these roles during her stay abroad, and she appeared in costume during her rendition. The Jacksonville people were given a rare opportunity to see just how Mrs. Read performed when she scored such successes during her absence from the city. Her acting was superb and the simplicity in which she gave her songs and told the story was wonderful. The audience would not let her go at the close until she had repeated the "Jewel Song". Miss Mathews also appeared to good advantage in the "Barcarole" duet with Mrs. Read. The audience insisted on an encore.

Too much praise cannot be given the excellent support given Mrs. Read by the Illinois Conservatory orchestra under the direction of William E. Kitch, the part the orchestra played was a difficult one and all the requirements were finely met.

The concert was given under the auspices of the Jacksonville Courier and the receipts of the evening amounted to over $400.

FRANKLIN

A family reunion was held Sunday at the home of John Wright and wife in honor of the arrival of their youngest son Will Wright of Arizona.

Mr. Wright, or "Deeter" as he was formerly known, here has not been home for almost twenty-three years and very naturally finds things much changed. His father, John Wright, is nearly eighty years old and in very poor health, nevertheless he enjoyed the occasion greatly. All of the Wright sisters and brothers were there with the exception of Mrs. Burley Fletcher of Girard, who was unable to attend. The afternoon was spent in music which was furnished by a grandson, John Wright, Jr., and Porter Armstrong. "Aunt Polly" Gibson entertained the guests with her interesting talks of former days, after which pictures were taken of the entire crowd. Those present were Mrs. W. T. Luttrell, Mrs. Eli Seymour, George and Henry Wright, Burley Wright, wife and daughter, Virginia, George Seymour, wife and daughters Mary, Henrietta and Eliza, J. B. Wright, wife and sons Geoffrey and John, Mr. and Mrs. Vessie Covey and daughter Frances, C. M. Hocking Robert Givens and wife, Fred Seymour, Aunt Polly Gibson, Ed Jones, Walter Wright, Hallie, Grace and Porter Armstrong, Charles Armstrong and Will Wright.

The Loyal Daughters met Monday night with Miss Emma Jackson at the home of her sister, Mrs. Geo. Haynes southwest of town.

Fresh air (just as with a furnace) is drawn in at the sides, heated evenly to several hundred degrees temperature, and discharged—not through the flue and chimney, but through the top of the hot-air chamber into the room. This creates a thorough circulation of hot air that will successfully heat several rooms. Even the upstairs rooms can be heated by the aid of a simple pipe connection.

OLD JACKSONVILLE
THE FAIRBANKS

By Ensley Moore.

Member of Illinois State Historical Society.

The Fairbank family, as it is known here, is probably thought of by most people as living "out Concord way," as the Yankee would say. But when John B. Fairbank came to Illinois in 1837, he lived at first in a farm house which stood west of the point where Lincoln avenue now makes the city limits, where it crosses Michigan avenue. The house stood about an eighth of a mile west of this intersection. From that old homestead the father and his children afterwards scattered out over the country, or the world, as did Samuel B. and his descendants.

The name is variously spelled, Fayerbank, Fairbanks, Fairbanke, Fairbanks and Fairbank. The Morgan county contingent used the latter patronymic, but people here often refer to them as the Fairbanks.

A genealogist of the family wrote: "My father used to tell of a tradition that two brothers, probably sons of the original Jonathan, agreed the one to add a final 's', the other to keep it off their respective names, so that their descendants could be distinguished from one another, but they left no record of 'which was which,' and it seems that their descendants did not consider themselves bound by the covenant, for I find both names among the progeny of each."

"Still in rural Yorkshire the child is often called 'the bank,' and a fair fair baby would be called a Fair bank, as in Scotland, it would be a Fair-bairn, or in South England a 'Fair-child, and the names are of identical origin."

The family have a book of their genealogy, of nearly a thousand pages, so there is plenty of material to draw from. This covered the time from 1633 to 1897.

"Jonathan Fairbank came from Soverby in the West Riding of Yorkshire, England, to Boston, Mass., in the year 1633, and in 1636 settled in Dedham, Mass., where he built the noted Old Fairbanks house, which is still standing * * * the oldest dwelling house in New England * * * that has been continuously occupied by the builder and his lineal descendants. "Jonathan died Dec. 5, 1668.

Jonathan supposedly had a brother Richard, who was the first postmaster of Boston and of the colony.

Jonathan's wife was Grace Lee, by whom he had six children. She died in 1673 or 1676.

Jonas was the fifth born in England, came to Dedham with his parents, removed to Lancaster in 1657 and was "one of the fathers of the town." In 1632 he was fined for wearing great boots before he was worth 200 pounds sterling. He and his son Joshua were killed by Indians Feb. 10, 1676, during a raid on the settlement. Jonas married Lydia Prescott, May 28, 1658. They had seven children. She married Elias Barron, of Watertown, after the death of Jonas.

Capt. Jabez, son of Jonas lived in Lancaster and died March 2, 1758, aged about 84.

Jabez married Mary Wilder, who died Feb. 21, 1781, "in the 43rd year of her age. They had ten children. He married, after Mary's death, Elizabeth's Whitcomb, March 25, 1719. She does not appear to have had any children.

Jabez was elected to the General Court in 1714, 1721, 1722 and 1723. His military and legislative offices entitled the ladies descended from him to membership in the Colonial Dames. "He was a very efficient soldier and officer in the Indian wars, and * * * during the raid upon the town in 1687 when his brother Jonathan and one of the latter's children were slain, he was the means of saving a garrison and perhaps many lives * * * outside the garrison six were carried away as captives of whom five returned. Among the captives returned was the wife of Jonathan (brother of Jabez).

Jonas was a son of Jabez. He was born in Lancaster in 1703, lived there, and died Nov. 4, 1792. He was a soldier in the French and Indian wars. He married Thankful Wheeler, April 8, 1731. She died May 15, 1795. They were the parents of eleven children.

The families preceding Jonas called themselves Fairbanks. He left off the final 's'.

Josiah Fairbank, son of Jonas, was born in Lancaster, May 22, 1734. He was a soldier in the Colonial and Revolutionary wars. He married Abigail Carter Jan. 22, 1761, who, after her husband's death, married Deacon Samuel Wilder. She died Nov. 20, 1815. Josiah died previous to riam Fairbank was one of these, born March 9, 1791.

Josiah had eight children, Ephraim in Lancaster, March 16, 1770. Lived in New Ipswich, N. H., after his marriage. Moved to Oakham, Mass. Died in Jacksonville, Ill., Sept. 11, 1837. He married Sarah Chandler, of New Ipswich, N. H., May 14, 1795. She was born Sept. 7, 1776, and died here Sept. 15, 1844.

The first child of Ephraim and Sarah (Chandler) Fairbank was John Barnard, born March 16, 1796, at New Ipswich, N. H.

John Fairbank removed with his parents to Oakham, Mass. He taught successfully in the common schools, and became principal of an Academy in Stamford, Conn. There he married his wife, with whom he lived happily until his death in 1873. Two years after celebrating their Golden Wedding.

He went back from Connecticut to Massachusetts, where he manufactured palm leaf hats, straw bonnets and other straw goods, and in New York, for some twelve years. In 1837 he removed to Morgan county, Ill., settling on a farm near Jacksonville, in the edge of Diamond Grove.

He removed in 1845 to the farm, just a mile south of Concord, Morgan county, where he spent the remainder of his life.

Mr. Fairbank married Hannah M. Crissy in New York city, Nov. 6, 1821, and they were the parents of:

1.—Samuel Bacon, born Dec. 22, 1824, in Stamford, Conn.

2.—James Chandler, born in Oakham, Jan. 13, 1825.

3.—Hannah Maria, born May 25, 1827; died Aug. 1829.

4.—Daniel Wilder, born Apr. 27, 1829.

5.—John Barnard, born Sept. 6, 1831.

6.—Hannah Maria, second of the name, born Sept. 25, 1833; died in Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 29, 1835.

7.—Sarah Maria, born May 26, 1836; died Dec. 30.

8.—Mary Amelia, born March 14, 1838; died Aug. 23.

Edward Beecher, born in Jacksonville, May 21, 1841; died Sept. 14, 1863.

The Fairbank genealogist says of Mr. Fairbank:

"He was a man of fine presence, of commanding abilities and of rare moral characteristics; a genuine Puritan in faith and practice; a typical Deacon of the Congregational church; a generous giver and efficient worker in the Master's vineyard; a worthy Christian gentleman of the old school, held in honor while he lived, and in honored remembrance ever." Mr. Fairbanks died June 17, 1873.

Mrs. John B. Fairbank died April 7, 1884. She was a bright woman, of strong character, and was very helpful in advice to early students of Illinois college. She was acquainted with Abraham Lincoln, and the family have an amusing incident in that connection.

Samuel B. Fairbank was graduated from Illinois College, which gave him the degrees of B. A., M. A., and D. D., in the class of 1842, and from Andover Seminary. He became a foreign missionary in 1846, spending his life and strength in that service. "He went to the American Marathi Mission in Bombay in the fall of 1846. His work has been at Ahmadnagar, Bombay, Wadnala and since 1889 most of the time at Kodakanal in South India. During all these years he has been only three times on furloughs in the United States and he hopes to end his days in India." (As he did.) First, he did literary work in connection with the Mission press in Bombay, he established mission stations in various country districts, preaching and superintending Sabbath schools, where now have developed churches and large Christian communities. He taught agriculture and the use of implements to make the work of the natives more efficient and productive. He also did much for music. He translated, composed, taught and encouraged it. * * * "In the community where he has lived he is looked up to with reverence and affection by all classes."

"Dr. Fairbanks is father of a family of missionaries; his two sons are working in India; his eldest daughter, Mrs. R. A. Hume, is at Ahmednagar, and other daughters are pursuing their education in America, hoping to return to India as missionaries."

Dr. Fairbank was married in 1846 to Abby Allen, who died in 1852. Their children were: Emily Maria, Mrs. Thos. Snell Smith; Mary Crocker, died in infancy; John Melvin died in infancy.

Dr. Fairbank married Mary Ballantine, July 11, 1856. She was born Sept. 10, 1836, and died Jan. 15, 1878. They were the parents of Anna, Mrs. Robert M. Woods; Katie, Mrs. Robt. H. Hume; Melvin died young; Henry now a missionary in India; Grace, Mrs. H. M. Burr; Edward, missionary in India; James, died in infancy; Elizabeth, Mrs. Wm. Walter Hastings; Rose, Mrs. L. H. Beals, medical missionary; Mary Darling, went as missionary to India and married T. A. Evans.

Dr. Samuel B. Fairbank did a heroic and long work, and he passed to his reward in 1897.

Adelaide, daughter of Edward, is of the fourth generation now in missions in India.

James C. Fairbank lived at Jacksonville with his parents and removed to a home beside his father, just south of Concord. He returned to Jacksonville in his later days, purchasing Dr. L. M. Glover's house on Grove street, where Mr. Fairbank died, Feb. 7, 1893.

He was married Oct. 4, 1847, in Jacksonville to Hannah B. Carter, daughter of Ebenezer Carter, and sister of W. Chauncey Carter. She died March 28, 1863.

They were the parents of Samuel Allen and of Ellen Maria. The latter married Milton O. Matthews, of Joy Prairie, and son of old settlers, Oct. 7, 1873. They have one daughter, Mabel F. Matthews, prominent as a singer. Mary Amelia, second daughter of Jas. C. Fairbank, married Chas. H. Smith, of Concord neighborhood Aug. 26, 1890. They have resided in Jacksonville for some years where Mr. Smith was in the book business. Their children are Edwin F., James F. and Allen C.

Mr. James C. Fairbank was married, Jan. 1, to Mary Lucy, daughter of Samuel and Mary (Safford) Daniels, of Joy Prairie. Mr. and Mrs. Fairbank have had three children: George May, residing with her mother in Jacksonville; James Edward now in Los Angeles, California, and Arthur Daniels, living at the Grove street home. He was graduated from Illinois College in 1909, and

Some Topics of the Farm

Farmers who visited Jacksonville Wednesday were especially interested in the display of tractors. Several were shown in Central park and others on the Billy Sunday lot. It was possible to give a very fair idea of the operation of the tractors and the place they can fill in farm work, altho the exhibition would have been much more interesting if it had been possible to see the tractors in actual operation. Within recent years thirty or more tractors have been placed upon the market and demonstrations given at Champaign and Bloomington this year attracted a great deal of interest. While there has been a great deal of development in this class of machinery, it is believed that still further development is not far distant. A great many farmers would have use for a tractor of less power than many of those now offered on the market and at a correspondingly less price.

The small farmer does not need a tractor which is of such size and power that it will pull six plows. However, there are already a number of tractors on the market which sell at very much lower figures than the minimum of a few years back. Farmers generally are of the opinion that while a number of tractors will be purchased for work in Morgan county during the next farm year, that the number for the succeeding year will be far greater. The average farm, if a tractor were included in its equipment, could be operated with a much less number of horses. On a farm of large size it is necessary to keep a great many horses which are used only a part of the year, because at certain seasons there is an excess of work for the draft animals and thru other seasons there is nothing for which they are used.

This condition and the advent of the tractor has caused a good many farmers to make figures on the cost of keeping horses or mules the year round, and they are realizing that during five or six months of the year when the animals are non-producers, that the horse power for the farm work is quite an expensive matter. Another argument in favor of the tractor is that it can be used for plowing and harrowing and other ordinary field work, and afterward available for such work as grinding feed, pumping water, turning of the churn or the separator. Still other uses might be enumerated, and for the average farm a tractor of medium size which it is possible to move readily should result in saving money for the farmer.

Charles Leake and Leonard Elliott, who are doing the work on the Leake farm in the Joy Prairie neighborhood, expect to begin shucking corn within the next few days. They have found some corn that is dry and ready for cribbing and other parts of their field which is still somewhat sappy. It is believed tho, that the shucking can be safely begun the coming week.

Henry Richardson, whose farm is about five miles west of Jacksonville, has been a stock feeder for a number of years and has followed that business in a successful way. This year he has 50 acres of corn which he will begin shucking next Monday or Tuesday, and the corn gathered from his field will be fed to cattle and hogs that he now has on hand. He ordinarily feeds more corn than he raises, but possibly may not do so this year as his drove of hogs was somewhat depleted by cholera.

Mr. Richardson has 40 head of stock cattle which were purchased the past season in Kansas City and had an average weight of 700 to 800 lbs. Mr. Richardson has usually made his stock purchases in St. Louis and has no special market preferences but buys where he can do so to the best advantage. This year it was necessary to ship from Kansas City on account of the quarantine regulations affecting the other possible points. The cattle have been on grass all summer and have made good gains. This farmer's plan is to give a short feed—that is, for a period of two or three months—and so he is expecting to have this bunch of cattle ready for market along about the latter part of December or early in the coming year.

Mr. Richardson has now about 10 hogs that average about 120 lbs. The number really needed to go with the cattle is 75 or 80, but as already stated, the cholera caused Mr. Richardson some losses. This was about five weeks ago and at that time he had his hogs vaccinated and now they are seemingly healthy and doing well. At the time the cholera started, the hogs were separated into three droves and it was among the shoats that the disease appeared. After fifteen or twenty had died, Mr. Richardson had the others in that bunch, and also in the other two, vaccinated by the double treatment. Some of the hogs had fever when they were vaccinated, but the losses were very few after vaccination, and none of the older hogs which had been kept separated from the shoats were affected.

It therefore happens that Mr. Richardson is now an advocate of vaccination, altho he had previously had very grave doubts as to the efficacy of this method of keeping hogs healthy. Now he has determined that if a man is going to continue in the hog raising business that he might just as well make up his mind to have the animals vaccinated. He thinks that there are only two plans—one to go out of business, and the other to vaccinate. This he thinks is especially true because a part of the stockmen are vaccinating their hogs and when the double treatment is used they bring cholera to the farm where the hogs are located and thus afford the possibility of contagion for other farms.

what might", according to friends offered to go away.

Later, Miss Rowell again offered to sacrifice her love for Dr. Martin and leave the city that she might not disturb the Martin home. But Mrs. Martin is said to have again invited her to remain.

Friends say that when Dr. Martin realized that his affection for Miss Rowell was more serious than friendship he went to his wife and told her. Thereafter Miss Rowell frequently visited the Martin home and an agreement was reached whereby Mrs. Martin would withdraw and secure a divorce.

She did so and her divorce was granted Wednesday, September 15, in the district court. The grounds were ordinary in divorce court—cruel and inhuman treatment. Mrs. Martin testified that altho they had lived in the same home for two years she and Dr. Martin had lived apart. She also testified that the minister would leave her alone with the children.

The court granted Mrs. Martin $10,000 alimony and 6 per cent interest thereon until paid. In addition she was granted $75 a month to care for herself and children until the three little girls reached maturity. Thereafter the decree provides, she shall receive $25 a month alimony. Dr. Martin did not contest the divorce.

Dr. Martin's Belief.
Dr. Martin is a believer in what is called "The New Morality", according to members of the Unitarian church. The tenets of this faith center around the belief that those who love each other should be mated whether or not either is already married to another if love has ceased to exist.

After giving up Dr. Martin to Miss Rowell Mrs. Martin went to California. She returned to secure her divorce, but in a short time left for the western coast.

The fact that Miss Rowell was planning to go to New York to wed Dr. Martin became known three weeks ago.

Bride Goes East.
Miss Rowell at that time refused to deny or affirm the report. She left the following Friday, two days after she was interviewed for the east. She said she was going to visit an aunt, Mrs. Horace A. White, in Great Barrington, Mass.

Miss Rowell changed her plans and went to the home of an aunt in Albany, N. Y. Rev. Mr. Martin went up to Albany from New York city. They decided to be married in a week. Miss Rowell was accompanied to New York city a week later by her aunt.

Mrs. Martin is the daughter of Mrs. Sarah A. Rowell, 451 Twenty-ninth street. She came to Des Moines from Boston ten years ago. Last year she was a member of a band of the children of the more wealthy people. She is a graduate of Smith, an exclusive girls' college at Northampton, Mass.

REV. E. D. MARTIN
WEDS MISS ROWELLCEREMONY TOOK PLACE IN NEW YORK CITY.

Story of Devotion on Part of Bride who is Said to Have Given Her Small Fortune to Former Mrs. Martin, Now Divorced—Martin Quits Newspaper Work.

Friends in the city have received word of the marriage of Rev. Everett D. Martin, formerly of this city, but for the past few years pastor of the Unitarian church at Des Moines, Iowa, to Miss Persis Rowell, the ceremony being said recently in New York City. The Des Moines Capital in speaking of the marriage says:

Miss Persis Rowell and the Rev. Everett Dean Martin, former pastor of the First Unitarian church, were married in the city hall of New York city last Wednesday, October 27. The announcement came from New York today.

They will live in New York city, where both expect to secure positions. Their plans are indefinite. Dr. Martin, who was editorial writer on the Globe, severed connection with that newspaper a week ago Saturday.

Behind the simple announcement of the wedding is a story of sacrifice on the part of both Miss Rowell and Mrs. Esther K. Martin, the former wife of the minister, who secured a divorce from Dr. Martin just six weeks to the day before his marriage to Miss Rowell.

According to the friends of the first Mrs. Martin, Miss Rowell gave the former wife her entire modest fortune of $6,000, thus expiating as far as she could her entrance into the Martin home which resulted in Mrs. Martin's agreement to secure a divorce and give up Dr. Martin to Miss Rowell. Miss Rowell gave Mrs. Martin all her money, friends of the latter assert. Mrs. Martin accepted it. With her the court entrusted the care and custody of the three children—Mary, aged 7; Margaret, aged 6, and Betty, aged 3, until they shall have reached the age of 18.

When Love Affair Began.
The friendship of Miss Rowell and Dr. Martin began two years ago when Dr. Martin was pastor of the Unitarian church and was attaining much prominence thru his lectures and writings which showed the brilliancy of his intellect. Miss Rowell, who is also highly intellectual, was a leading member of the church and devoted to his work. Their frequent association in church work resulted in their mutual regard growing stronger than friendship.

Realizing, Miss Rowell is said by her friends to have offered to go away from Des Moines. When her intention was made known to Mrs. Martin the latter was willing that Miss Rowell remain and "let come

YOU CAN'T FIND ANY DANDRUFF, AND HAIR STOPS FALLING OUT

Save your hair! Make it thick, wavy, glossy and beautiful at once.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you can't find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; and an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment. A 25-cent bottle will double the beauty of your hair.—Adv.

USE "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS WHEN CONSTIPATED

When Bilious, headachy, sick, sour stomach, bad breath, bad colds.

Get a 10-cent box. Take a Cascaret tonight to cleanse your liver, stomach and bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, a bad cold, are bilious, nervous, upset, bothered with a sick gassy, disordered stomach and feel worn out. Are you keeping your bowels clean with cascariets—or merely forcing a passage-way every few days with salts, cathartic pills, or castor oil?

Cascariets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret to-night will straighten you out by morning. A ten-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

WOMAN'S COUNTRY CLUB COMPLETES 20TH. YEAR

TOPICS FOR STUDY IN 1915-16 HAVE WIDE INTEREST.

Calendar Issued for Twelvemonth En-suing up to High Literary Stand-ard of Morgan County's Oldest Organization Among Rural Women—The Members of the Club.

Topics of varied interest and broad appeal are embodied in the annual calendar of the Women's Country club, just beginning its twenty-first year of useful activity and with plans for the twelvemonth beginning fully up to the standard of literary worth set by this oldest organization among rural women of Morgan county. Organized in the autumn of 1895, the club has grown in efficiency and influence. It became a charter member of the district federation in 1901. Last June the Woman's country club lived up to its traditions by standing among the foremost in the organization of the Morgan county federation.

Members of the Woman's Country club take no vacation during the summer months. Not discounting domestic science, they look upon the bi-weekly meetings as a place for a complete change from household routine and thus confine their attention to science, art and literature. The curriculum of the club's official emblem, and yellow and white are the colors. Officers are elected for terms of three months only the present incumbents being:

President—Mrs. W. H. Hinrichsen. Recording secretary—Mrs. Margaret Colwell.

Corresponding secretary—Mrs. Fred Moeller.

Treasurer—Mrs. Ed Tindall.

In addition to the twenty-seven regular meetings this year there is to be especially mentioned the annual open meeting, accounted each year as one of the principal social happenings of eastern Morgan county.

The 1915 meeting will be held with Mrs. W. H. Hinrichsen, Thursday, Nov. 18. The programs were distributed at the first meeting of the new club year, Tuesday, Nov. 2, with Mrs. James Cunningham as hostess and Mrs. Catherine Magill as leader.

Mrs. A. A. Curry is musical director of the club. Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Rawlings, Mrs. Cunningham and Mrs. Arnold compose the program committee. Seven members have passed to the life beyond since the organization's founding. They are Mrs. Minerva Stevenson, Mrs. Hattie Pierman Magill, Mrs. Belle Drury, Mrs. Annie Waggoner, Mrs. Belle Shepherd, Mrs. Margaret Rawlings and Mrs. Blanche Lane Shepherd.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS TO ATTEND CONFERENCE IN BLOOMINGTON

Speakers of Note Will Appear on Program Thanksgiving Week—Improvements at Local Building.

'A Call to Leadership' is the theme of the kind annual older boys' congress of Illinois which will be held at Bloomington Nov. 26 and 28, under the auspices of the Illinois Sunday School association and the Illinois Young Men's Christian association. Secretary Alva L. Snyder was instructed to attend the congress by the directors in their November meeting Tuesday evening, and five Jacksonville boys will be presently selected to attend as delegates.

A point will be made at this meeting of giving the boys a larger part in the program than has heretofore been the practice. K. A. Shumaker, state secretary, Arthur Cotton, international boys' secretary, and Hugh Cork, general secretary, of the Illinois Sunday School association will be among the speakers, as will William H. Ridgway, of Coatsville, Pa., and Dr. Ozora S. Davis, president of the Chicago theological seminary. Members of the local association residing in South Jacksonville must pay the regular city rates. It was decided at the meeting Monday night. Some men residing there have been taking advantage of the rural route, but the directors did not think South Jacksonville could be thus classed as a rural community, and the city price of membership was ordered maintained.

The social and banquet room in the west end of the basement, which has for some time been under consideration, was brought up again and it is probable that bids will soon be asked. A stairway will be cut from the main lobby to the room below and all facilities for class work, entertainments and other social activities will be installed.

THE GREATEST BLOOD PURIFIER EVER DISCOVERED

Thousands bears testimony to a remedy that has stood the test of over half a century—S. S. S.

Possibly there is no remedy ever compounded by the hand of man that has been able to show such a clean record for the wonderful effect it has had in remedying the ills of men and women. The library of the Swift Specific Company in Atlanta is a veritable treasure chest of testimonials, setting forth in distinct and indisputable language how S. S. S. has banished the horrible suffering of Rheumatism. There are thousands and thousands of letters from grateful fathers who have at last the knowledge that the hereditary taint that was discovered in their blood will not have to be handed down to their children. Here are wonderful records to tell where the horrible suffering of Catarrh has gone forever, where skin diseases that have disfigured the face and features have left them as clean and wholesome as nature intended them to be. Cases of Eczema, or Salt Rheum, Tetters, Rash—case after case of so-called skin diseases which have been brought to bay by the marvelous tonic effects of S. S. S. Tell-tale Scrofula no longer has its terrors, for the famous remedy like a guardian angel, stands ready to banish it. The chief thing for the sufferer from blood diseases, and Rheumatism is one of the worst of them, is to realize that they cannot be cured by rubbing, by douches of hot water, salves, lotions or any outward or external treatment. These remedies that soothe often do no more than aggravate the trouble in the long run. Believe that even pimples are the danger signal of bad blood and treat the blood and not the pimple and the relief is sure. Medical advice is free to any sufferer from blood disorders or skin diseases. You know your symptoms. This is the opportunity to secure special advice from Physicians who have for fifty years been making a study of blood diseases, particularly Poison Blood, Rheumatism, Scrofula, Eczema, the hardening of blood vessels from old age. Write today for special advice. Avoid substitutes. If you suffer from any of the troubles mentioned go straight to your druggist and get a bottle of S. S. S.—then write us. ## OLD JACKSONVILLE is Sec. and Treas. of Illinois College Alumni society. He was a member of Sigma Pi society.

S. Allen Fairbank has been prominently connected with politics, as was his father for many years, both being Republicans, as were the elder J. B. and his sons. Allen has been mayor of Jacksonville. He lived for some years near Concord, came to Jacksonville, went to Coioraco and is now a resident of Jacksonville. Here he has been actively engaged in business.

Allen Fairbank married Lizbie R. Eldred of Carrollton, Ill., Feb. 3, 1874, and they are parents of: Frederick Joy, now Sec. and Treas. of Carleton College, Northfield, Minn.; Clarence Eldred, died July 16, 1902; and Ruth Eldred, graduated from Illinois college in the class of 1911, now studying medicine at John Hopkins university.

Mrs. S. Allen Fairbank was graduated from the Young Ladies Athenaeum in the class of 1872.

F. J. was graduated from Illinois College in 1897, he and Clarence E., being members of Sigma Pi society.

Jas. C. Fairbank was one of the pleasantest men to be met with. He was a promising student of Illinois College, but left at the end of his junior year, in obedience to the call of duty. He was for many years in partnership with his brother, D. W., as a merchant and trader. They did business in Concord, purchasing hogs for the neighboring packing houses, and doing some packing themselves; and acting as agents for McCormick reapers and mowers. J. C. was an administrator for the whole vicinity, and hundreds of thousands of dollars passed thru his hands as such and no taint of the slightest unfairness ever clung to him.

"In business circles, in the neighborhood and in the church (Congregational), wherever he went he was useful and beloved."

Daniel Wilder Fairbank, known as Wilder, came to Illinois with his parents in 1837. He was very closely connected in residence and business with his brother, James C.

"He studied for some time in Illinois College with the intention of entering the ministry, but poor health compelled him to give up the idea. He followed teaching for some years and then carried on a store in Concord with his brother (J. C.)." About 1874 he came to Jacksonville and engaged in dealing in agricultural implements, which business he followed until a short time before his death. His store was opposite the present office of the Journal, on West State street, two doors east of West street. His residence here was on the west side of Westminster street, about half way from College avenue to Grove street.

Mr. Fairbank was a deacon in the Joy Prairie Congregational church, holding a similar place here and was superintendent of the Sabbath school. He was a member of the City Council and chairman of the committee which had charge of the construction of the city water works.

His greatest work, probably, was as a trustee of Illinois College, to which he was greatly devoted, and in this work he was very active and efficient. "On his death appropriate and highly commendatory resolutions were adopted by the trustees and faculty of the College."

"The very name (says a correspondent) of D. W. Fairbank, carried with it the confidence and esteem of his fellow men," says the Fairbank genealogist.

Mr. Fairbank was married Aug. 21, 1850, to Miss Sarah Epler, daughter of John Epler, and sister of Judge Cyrus Epler. Their children were: Evelyn Hall, married Prof. Geo. W. Brown, June 4, 1872; Fanny Gertrude, married Edward C. Carter, chief civil engineer of the Chicago & Northwestern railway, now of Evanston, Dec. 16, 1880, and Miss Sarah Maria Fairbank.

Mrs. D. W. Fairbank died March 26, 1904.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown were parents of Mabel Fairbank, married Frank J. Waddell, a leading merchant of Jacksonville; Clara Wyckoff and Helen Epler, married Ernest Read, a graduate of Illinois College in the class of 1898.

Helen Brown Read has become, after study in this country and in Europe, as well as pursuing her profession at home and abroad, one of our finest singers.

Miss Clara W. Brown has pursued studies in the east.

Mrs. Mabel F. Waddell was graduated from the Jacksonville Female Academy in 1893.

Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Carter and Miss S. M. Fairbank were all graduated from the Young Ladies Athenaeum here.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter were parents of Edward F., Paul E. and Gertrude Carter.

All of D. W. Fairbank's daughters have travelled abroad. Miss Maria spent considerable time in India, with her relatives there.

The Rev. John Barnard Fairbank, D. D., came with his parents to Illinois in 1837, and their home was his until the commencement of his college course. He was graduated from Illinois College in 1857, and from Union Theological Seminary, New York, in 1860. Ordained at Marquette, Ill., Oct. 24, 1860. He preached in Illinois, Michigan, Indiana and Minnesota. He became pastor of the Congregational church in Waverly, Ill., in 1889. His last residence was in Jacksonville on Mound Ave., at the south end of Lockwood place. His last pastorate was at Godfrey, 1897 to 1901.

Dr. Fairbank was State Registrar of the Minn. Congregational Association, and incumbent of the similar position in the Illinois church at the time of his death, March 11, 1910.

He was twice married. First, to Emily P. Mack, May 12, 1859. She died June 12, 1860. He was again married August 31, 1862 to Ruth A. Boyce, who passed on June 20, 1889. By his second wife, Dr. Fairbank had three children, Herbert Augustus, now of Sacramento, Cal.; Marion Emily, resident here, and Arthur Boyce of Sioux Falls, S. D. Two children, Edward Boyce and John Wilkes, died in early childhood.

Miss Marion E. Fairbank has been a teacher of the deaf in this and other states.

Arthur Boyce Fairbank was graduated from Illinois College in the class of 1896, where he, as his father, was a member of Sigma Pi society. A. B. has made good as a lawyer, and is one of the able men of South Dakota. Immediately after being graduated he went to California to be a business man, but found his proper vocation in the law, and his field "in the land of the Dakotas."

Herbert Augustus Fairbank has been a business man in Sacramento, Cal., for a number of years. In Illinois College he was a Phi-Alpha.

John B. Fairbank, the preacher, was a genial as well as a good man, and worthily bore the name of the older John Barnard, his father.

Edward Beecher Fairbank was an attractive young man who died early, as noted above.

An interesting incident is to be told in connection with him.

He was engaged, at the time of his death, to be married to Miss Mary Lucy Daniels. Some time later she became the wife of Edward's brother, James C. This union was not only made by the latter, but his children by his first wife desired their father to make Miss Daniels a mother to them. She still survives, honored and respected.

In the Fairbanks Genealogy nearly four pages are given to the records of the services of members of the connection in Colonial wars. Nearly six pages are given to the family's record in Revolutionary and "Miscellaneous Militia Service." For some reason their services in the Civil War are not tabulated, but some of them took part in it, some of high rank.

The most prominent and distinguished members of the family, as known of here, probably were N. K. Fairbanks, the great grain commissioner and packer, of Chicago; Rev. Calvin Fairbank, of Angelica, N. Y., who endured great suffering on account of his opposition to human slavery; the Hon. Chas. W. Fairbanks, of Indianapolis, Ind., U. S. Senator from Indiana, and vice-president of the United States, and the Rev. Samuel B. E. Fairbank, of this city, long time missionary in India.

The Hon. C. W. Fairbanks made a speech in the Wabash park here some years ago since, and he is a fine speaker.

In this connection it may be noted somewhat as singular, that the former vice president and his brother have a great ranch or farm in our adjoining county of Greene.

The family took the pictures of many of the men folks of the tribes out there is "none more" handsome than that of Nathaniel Kellogg Fairbank, late of Chicago.

A. B. and A. D. Fairbank, whom their mates in college picked out as "Black Arthur" and "Red Arthur" are only two among the twenty-five Arthurs in the connection.

Of Johns there were eighty-two, most of them with a second or third name, besides Fairbank, to pick them out by.

There were twenty from who had Maria or Mar'an as their first name, "and there were others" who had Maria as part of their names. Fifteen had Mabel as part of their names.

It has been noted of Illinois College that "there is always a new Fairbank or Epler turning up there."

It is no more than fair to state that genealogy of the Fairbank family in America" was traced by Lorenzo Sales Fairbanks, of Boston, Mass., and it took him nearly four years to make the story out.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

SELLING MOVEMENT MORE THAN OFFSETS EARLY BULGE IN WHEAT

Market Closes Heavy at 1 to 1 1/4 Cents Down—Corn and Oats Lose a Shade.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Announcement of a large increase of the world's available supply started a selling movement that more than offset an early bulge today in the price of wheat. As a result the market closed heavy 1c to 1 1/4c down, with December at 103 1/2c and May at 104 1/2c. Corn lost a shade at % and oats 1/4c to %c.

In provisions the outcome was unchanged to 10c lower.

Nineteen million bushel increase of the world's available stock was perhaps of considerable significance in view of the fact that the European visible supply is now about 5,000,000 bushels larger than at the corresponding time last year. However, this might be, long did not wait for the news before attempting to realize profits. Hedging pressure and short selling added to the weakness which prevailed during the rest of the session.

Corn weakened a little with wheat. Inquiries for liberal amounts to be shipped to Great Britain tended however, to make the corn market appear stubborn as against the bears and also the smallness of rural offers. Oats gave way with other grain. Export demand was not as keen as heretofore.

Provisions appeared to respond more closely than usual to changes in the value of cereals. Lower prices for hogs were also effective to some extent, especially in the last part of the day.

BURGOO DINNER PROVED SUCCESSFUL

HUNDREDS ENJOY DAY AS THE GUESTS OF MERCHANTS.

Over a Thousand Gallons of Soup Was Dispensed. Automobiles and Farm Implements were Displayed and Trading Was Given Great Impetus.

The long anticipated day when the city was to treat the friends in the adjacent country to a free burgoo dinner has come and gone and the Carl Weber, secretary of the chamber of commerce worked desperately hard and efficiently and he may feel that his strenuous efforts were not in vain. He was assisted in part by the main burden was borne by him and the success of the affair tells how well he performed his duties.

At ten the night before, Isaac Watson and his assistants went to work with a cookstove and seventeen kettles. Among those who kindly loaned kettles were J. W. Cleary, W. Baker, Andrew O. Harris, S. M. Butler, W. Hedden J. Baker, Woodson Watermelon club, C. E. Butler, W. H. Spreen, Robert Megginson, Isaac Watson, E. H. Ranson, Fred Ranson and L. A. Reid. There were 1020 gallons of soup made. The kettle belonging to Mr. Harris held 125 gallons; there were seven that held each 75 gallons; five that held each, sixty gallons and some of thirty to forty gallons capacity.

Over 1,000 Gallons of Soup. Mr. Watson said it was the largest amount of soup he had ever made at one time his previous record being 700 gallons. The quality was fully in keeping with the gentleman's reputation and was pronounced by every one excellent with nothing to be desired. He was assisted during the night by L. D. Melton, Walter Brown and Milton Jennings and all did their work in a fine manner.

The coffee was prime and received many high compliments and was the work of W. R. Spillman. The bill of fare consisted of soup, coffee, crackers and pickles and certainly the person who couldn't make a meal of that would be difficult to please. The management would have been glad to supply the city people too but that was out of the question. As it was Mr. Weber said he estimated as nearly as possible the number of eaters at 4500. The service was good and while at the noon hour some had to wait they were accommodated as rapidly as possible and no one had good reason to complain.

Assisted in Serving. It was impossible to get the names of all the ladies and gentlemen who served but the following is a partial roster. As already stated they came from the First Baptist church. They were Fred Crabtree, A. C. Reid, Robert Lurton who was general utility man, looking after everybody at once, Mesdames Thomas Armstrong, Geo. Hocking, Fred Sheppard, Alice Wright, Elizabeth Stebbins, M. R. Frost, Riley Brown Hannah Berglan, Henry Robinson, A. B. Williamson, Chas. A. Story, W. T. Spire, J. W. Chipchase, Sarah Stringham, Henry Bersig, W. J. Brooks, John Hurst, P. A. Emmerson, Carrie M. Goodwin, Misses Velma McCurley, Mary Laurie, and Elizabeth Stevenson; Messrs Chas. Frye, Edward Combes and J. T. Esmond.

Mr. T. Cosgriff served as gate keeper and seemed to give offense to no one. Perry White and others assisted in handling the crowd. Chairs and tables were provided and extra chairs for those who were waiting their turn. A wire fence inclosed the space occupied by the tables and served its purpose well.

For a time it seemed as if the people would be a bit slow coming in but toward noon they began to show up as if by magic and from that till the shadows of evening began to gather people were fed at the tables and at the final roundup when it became evident people at the tables wouldn't eat all the soup, some was disposed to be carried away but so far as could be ascertained no one with a ticket went away not supplied with soup. Good order prevailed and almost all seemed to be good natured and ready to take things as they came and make the best of the situation. The ladies serving did their work admirably and it is hoped that no one deserving mention has been omitted.

Jacksonville has not seen such a gathering for some time and it surely was a good thing for both guests and entertainers. Jacksonville is a splendid place to visit and it is a first class place in which to trade and the more people are acquainted with it the better will it be for all concerned. In the afternoon Jeffries' orchestra band occupied the pavilion and discoursed excellent music during the rest of the day much to the delight of all present.

Trading Was Good. Special efforts were made to interview a good many merchants regarding the volume of business during the day. Several restaurant proprietors said they had a splendid trade and none said they had enjoyed anything less than usual. A number of merchants were well pleased with the day's trade saying it was much in excess of the ordinary; a few said they saw no difference and still fewer said they had less but practically all with very few exceptions, said it was a good thing and should be repeated occasionally.

Many Exhibitors. The dealers in automobiles and other goods were permitted to display their wares in the park and a good many availed themselves of the privilege. Among the exhibitors were: Kellogg and Fairlee Co., Metz touring car and a roadster.

R. T. Cassell, a Hudson car and several Studebakers.

The display was very creditable and many examined the articles shown and seemed to manifest much interest in them.

So far as ascertained there was no mishap or untoward incident of any kind and a great credit in due all who had part in preparing for the occasion.

AN INTERESTING FAMILY.

A good many years ago a worthy citizen named Carl Pond settled in the vicinity of Meredosia and at once went to work raising crops of all kinds, in which he was quite successful. He and his faithful wife long since went to their final reward but left eleven children; nine sons and two daughters, monuments of which they would have excellent reason to be proud if they were now on earth. The children all have done themselves and their parents credit and are among the best residents of the several communities in which they live.

The list is as yet unbroken and consists of F. X. of Beardstown; W. A. of Meredosia; Mrs. Kate Reed of New Berlin; C. L. of Jacksonville; H. E. and F. J. of Meredosia; Mrs. Nine Anderson of Chapin; T. C. and H. C. of Meredosia; H. R. of Birmingham, Ala., and A. G. of Meredosia.

W. A. Pond has ten children and there are fifty children in the several families.

All the Ponds are staunch Republicans and firmly believe in the doctrines of that party which they say has such a grand record and they look for its coming triumph next year as has been foreshadowed by the recent elections.

INTERESTING MEETING.

An interesting meeting yesterday was that of E. R. Upham of this all callers in the city yesterday from Litterberry. Both were children together in the days long gone by and the Aunt Susanne is three weeks younger than Mr. Upham, he says she needn't put on any great amount of airs on that account for both have seen an 85th birthday and both are well preserved and seem likely to be with their friends for a good many years to come.

RALPH GRAHAM SALE.

The sale of Ralph Graham was held two miles northeast of the city Wednesday. Owing to the big burgoo which was held in town there was not as large a crowd as was expected. The sale consisted of horses and about 8,000 feet of elm lumber. Only fair prices were secured. Horses averaging about $50. One yearling colt brought $95 while a weanling colt brought $55. The lumber sold at a fair price. Jed Cox was the auctioneer, and Charles McDonald, clerk.

JOLIET MAYOR HEADS MUNICIPAL LEAGUE

WILL MEET NET YEAR AT UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS.

Health, Welfare and Engineering Problems, Elections and Reports of Committees Take Up Time of Delegates.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 3.—William Barber, mayor of Joliet, was elected president of the Illinois Municipal league at the closing session of its annual convention at the University of Illinois today. Next year's convention also will be held at the University of Illinois.

Health, welfare and engineering problems and elections of officers and report of committees took up the time of the delegates today.

Except for W. G. Adkins of Chicago, who represented "Accounting Needs of the Average City," the afternoon sessions' papers were all read by members of the faculty of the university. A. N. Talbot, professor of Municipal and Sanitary Engineering, explained "Some Aspects of the Engineering Department of Small Cities;" J. E. Smith, assistant professor of civil engineering, discussed "The City Streets" and R. E. Cushman, instructor in political science, told about "City Planning and the Courts."

Some fifty mayors and other officials of municipalities throughout the state attended the convention.

P. L. Windsor, librarian of the University of Illinois opened the day's program with a paper on "The Public Library and City Government" in which he suggested means of making the facilities of the libraries of more practical value to the city governments.

The problems of the health departments of small municipalities were discussed by Dr. H. B. Hemenway of Evanston. He said in part:

"Though the community health must be the very foundation for its economic advancement, in no other branch of service are American municipalities as a rule less efficient. The science of disease prevention hardly sprung into existence in the last century. Today it is a science, and we are enabled to work with a great deal of definiteness. The reason for the general inefficiency is found in the fact that city government has not kept pace with science. The 'board of health' ideas, a relic of past ignorance, still prevails, without the slightest excuse for its existence. As well might an automobile be made with the governing parts so arranged that no one person could control its movements. The department should be in charge of one man technically trained for the work."

"It is time that the people realize that exceedingly few medical men know anything of public health service. It is not taught in American medical schools. There is no more reason for putting a doctor at the head of the department than there is for selecting a veterinarian for the position."

"How many doctors know an anopheline mosquito from a culex? The work of the two professions is largely antagonistic. The practicing physician does not get a chance until the sanitarian has failed. No doctor has served, even a small community faithfully and efficiently as a health officer who has not thereby injured his private practice. The Commissioner of Health should hold office permanently so long as he is efficient and should take no part in local politics."

The Federal Government aid in dealing with tramps and wandering beggars was suggested in a discussion of "The Problem of the Homeless Man" by Charles F. Rogers, former superintendent of the Chicago Municipal Lodging House.

"Only in time of great financial distress has the problem been acute," he said. But even then we have been content to alleviate the pain for the time being and seem to hope it won't hurt anymore."

Merely giving a man a job will not solve the problem, he said, because "with cheap living facilities and opportunity to beg some will prefer begging." After pointing out that the extent of the "hobo" wanderings, makes the problem national in scope, he said:

"The evils connected with trespassing on railroad property must, I believe be corrected by federal legislation. The tramp is a wanderer and to his wanderings there is no limit except the boundaries of the earth. If ever we are able to get to Mars I expect one of these men to go there on the first air ship."

"We should keep constantly in mind the welfare of the individual, internal, external and eternal. Herefore the feeling that we should drive the 'hobo' out of town has affected too much the policy of our authorities."

Mr. Rogers then told of the influence that vicarious or seasonal employment has in producing the "hobo" and argued that all material relief should be under municipal control.

He added that unless this municipal service is efficient, private charity would step in and add to the difficulties of the problem by scattering the means and methods of relief. As a practical method of municipal control he suggested establishment of two farm colonies, one to which the viciously idle would be sentenced to hard labor, and the other colony where the temporarily unfortunate would be given a chance to earn an honest living until more permanent employment could be found for him. Those who made good in the first colony could be promoted to the second and those who failed in the latter could be sentenced to the first, he said.

Decent facilities for recreation he said was a necessity to the homeless class and he paid tribute to the effective work done by many slum missions in the big cities in reclaiming individuals to lives of usefulness.

WON ANOTHER PRIZE.

Charles A. McHattan of Schmalz & Sons received a letter yesterday from the Royal Baking Powder company notifying him that he had won third prize of $10 in their window display contest. Mr. McHattan feels more elated over this prize than any other from the fact that there were only six chances to win, and the contest extended thruout the entire country. Mr. McHattan got this prize on a window display of Price's Baking powder which is made by the Royal company. In all Mr. McHattan has sent in three pictures of his windows and on each he has received a prize. This is evidence of his ability as a window decorator.

TO VISIT IN WEST.

J. Allerton Palmer, assistant cashier of the Elliott State bank, expected to leave today for California where he will be for a time with his wife and daughters in Los Angeles and will also take in the expositions at San Diego and San Francisco and see the pleasant things of the Pacific coast.

UNION SERVICE SUNDAY.

Announcement has been made of a union church service to be held at Grace church next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Protestant churches of the city will unite in this service for an address by Dr. Brandt, who is conducting an evangelistic service at Central Christian church. His theme will be "Transformation of Asia."

There survive two daughters, Mrs. Minnie Wynne and Catherine D. Dresser, and one son, William Dresser, all of Concord. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Neva Block and Mrs. Nettie Meyer of New York and two brothers, Phillip and John, both living in Germany.

Mr. Dresser came to this country with an uncle and aunt at the age of 16 years. They settled in Indiana where he remained for some time. He then went to Belleville where he learned the trade of blacksmith. He worked at the trade in Belleville and then went to Beardsdown where he was in business for himself for 35 years. About four years ago he went to Concord where he followed the same occupation. Here as elsewhere he was accommodating and earned the reputation of being a good mechanic. About two years ago he was compelled to give up his work on account of failing health. He was confirmed in the Evangelical Lutheran church when quite young and held membership in this church at Beardsdown at the time of death. For thirty-five years he was a member of the Independent Order of O. E. Fellows and this order had charge of the services at the grave.

Gray.

The funeral of Mrs. Ella Gray was held from Mt. Emory Baptist church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in charge of the Rev. E. L. Scruggs. Music was furnished by the choir of the church. The flowers were cared for by Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Bryant, Mrs. Guthrie and Mrs. Heaman. Interment was in Jacksonville cemetery and the bearers were: Cornelius Herman, Luther Bundy, George Clark, William Jones, Richard Taylor and Dallas Lee.

The religious life of Mrs. Gray began when she was 11 years of age. During the intervening years she has been a faithful Christian, ever ready to help those in need. In 1889 she was married to William Gray at Ripley, Miss., and shortly thereafter they came to Chapin, Ill., where they resided for one year and then moved to Jacksonville, which has since been their home. To this union were born twelve children, three of whom died in infancy. Those who survive are: Mrs. Wilma Viola Garner, Josie and Woodie of Chicago; Mrs. Lewis Carter, Sarah McKinney, Walter, Tracy and Eugene, all of this city, and three grandchildren. Other relatives are, the husband, two sisters, Mrs. Sue Cox of Ripley and Mrs. Clara Selmon of Sunflower, and one brother, the Rev. Charles Hatch of Mississippi. In the death of Mrs. Gray the community loses a good citizen and neighbor, the church a faithful member, and the family a loving wife and mother.

LIBRARIANS OPEN THREE DAYS' CONVENTION AT CHAMPAIGN

Program Calls for Consideration of a variety of More or Less Technical Subjects.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 3—Librarians of Illinois cities and institutions brushed the dust of dusty toms from their shoulders and assembled here today for a three day's convention of the Illinois Library Association. Many of the delegates attended the morning session of the Illinois Municipal League to hear P. L. Windsor, librarian of the University of Illinois, expound to the mayors of towns and cities of the state the relations between "The Public Library and the City Government."

The librarians' convention opened later in the day at the University of Illinois. The program calls for consideration of a variety of more or less technical subjects. "What can be done by the Illinois librarians for Shakespeare year" was discussed late today by Prof. D. K. Dodge of the University of Illinois and Henry E. Legler of the Public Library of Chicago. Prof. E. B. Greene of the University then discussed "What can be done by Illinois librarians for the Illinois Centennial."

Other speakers who are to appear before the convention include Dr. L. C. Lord, president of the Eastern Illinois State Normal School at Charleston; H. M. Pindell, editor of the Peoria Journal and a former member of the board of trustees of the state University, and P. L. Windsor, librarian of the university.

MR. STEARNS' RECITAL AT MUSIC HALL TONIGHT

Program in Piano at 8:15 O'clock Will Include Representative Work of American Composer, McDowell.

A musical program of especial interest will be given this evening by Henry V. Stearns, director of the Illinois College of Music, when there will be interpreted representative works by six of the masters, including a sonata in four movements by McDowell, the American composer who is famed, not for his musical genius alone, but for the work he has done to make easier the labor of young artists of creative power. The recital will take place at 8:15 o'clock in recital hall, Illinois Woman's college. The numbers follow:

Fantasia in C minor—Bach (1685-1750). Variations in F minor—Haydn (1732-1809). Rhapsodie in G minor—Brahms (1833-97). Intermezzo in E minor—Brahms. (1833-97). Scherzo in C sharp minor—Chopin (1809-49). Sonata Eroica—MacDowell (1861-1908). Slowly and with nobility—very fast. Fast and effulgent. Tenderly and longingly. Very fast—broadly. Sonnetta de Petrarca. Etude in D flat. Play of the Fountains at the Villa d'Este. Orage—Liszt (1811-86).

The Sonata Eroica, whose subtitle is a Latin phrase meaning "a flower from the court of King Arthur," is written in four movements. In the first is depicted Lancelot and the spiritual struggle which it is destined that he undergo. The second has to do with Merlin and is replete with the fairy element. It is in this movement that two of the most important melodies in the first are parodied. The third contains a re-statement of the spiritual struggle in the glory of Guinevere. In the last movement are described the last great battle in the west, the passing of Arthur and the apotheosis.

The Sonata Eroica is probably the greatest work in sonata form by an American composer. McDowell realized the difficulty attending the colorful handling of such subjects and the author seems to have been literally steeped in Tennyson's Idylls of the King. A peculiar interest attaches to the composition at this time because the first of the concert of the artists' series to be brought here by the college will be a lecture next week by Mrs. McDowell, herself. She is doing this work, not for herself alone, but in fulfillment of the great dream of her husband who, recognizing how hard it is for the young artist doing creative work to find the proper environment, bought an abandoned farm near Peterborough, N. H. Here he did a great part of his own work and here he hoped to found an artists' colony where, at small expense, young artists could have congenial surroundings, when all plans were ended by his death, to be carried on by the wife of the far-visioned composer.

MAN HIS PURPOSE AND DESTINY, DISCUSSED BY REV. J. L. BRANDT

"Man, his origin, Purpose and Destiny," was the theme of a powerful discourse by the Rev. John L. Brandt last night in the series of meetings at Central Christian church. Before the regular sermon, Mr. Brandt made a talk on the confession of faith, using a chart by way of illustration. "What is man that Thou art mindful of him?" were the words of Mr. Brandt in announcing the evening's text.

Mr. Brandt discussed the beginning of the human race, mentioning man as a physical, intellectual, emotional, responsible and immortal being. "How much better is man than the ape, the horse, the goat, the sun or the moon? Man—made in God's own image, with a mind to apprehend the truth, a heart to love, a conscience to discern between good and evil and a spirit with which to worship God." Man surveys the heavens and the earth, and as thru the ages his dominion increases, he grows more and more like his Maker. His great purpose is to worship God and thus to prepare for the life beyond the grave.

This evening at 7:30 o'clock the subject of the evangelist will be "God's Message to Man." Each discourse is in large measure related with the one which precedes and follows and an added advantage thus accrues to those who attend with regularity.

PEOPLE OF SOUTH SIDE MAKE GOOD USE OF LIBRARY EXTENSION

First Year's Work Completed This Month—Flourishing Station in Henderson's Grocery Store on Clay and Morton Avenues.

A year ago this November a small case of books was sent out from the public library to the grocery store on the corner of Clay and Morton avenue in order more adequately to serve library patrons who found it difficult to come often to the main building.

During the year forty-four persons who had never used the main library signed for cards at this station and have borrowed books more or less regularly. Others whose cards were not in use at the main building have registered and are borrowing on Fridays at the branch. The station has been open every Friday afternoon with Miss Aubury in charge. Sixteen hundred and forty-three books have gone out from that one small case. Until this week the books have never all been changed at one time although a gradual process of exchange has been kept up by sending out a few new books and books requested each week and returning to the main library any that had been asked for there or those that had been read by the patrons at the station.

To mark the successful completion of the first year's work, however, Mr. Henderson, proprietor of the grocery store where the books are housed, has offered to exchange the whole fund and take out a complete new case for next Friday. Through the station some reference work has been done. Material for a civil service examination, plays suitable for a neighborhood entertainment, books and pamphlets on the war have been furnished on demand. The idea of the station is not merely to give out books but also to take requests from busy people for information and the resources of the whole library will be used in an attempt to get the best sources to those who inquire at the station as for those who take questions to the main library.

MISS DUEWER BECOMES BRIDE OF JACKSONVILLE YOUNG MAN

Wedded to Jacob A. Long in Lutheran Church at New Berlin—Many Local People Guests at Wedding.

The marriage of Jacob A. Long of this city and Miss Anna Duewer was solemnized in the Lutheran church at New Berlin Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The service was said by Rev. Mr. Whitrock pastor of the church, in the presence of a large company of friends and relatives.

Miss Carrie Long, a sister of the groom, was the maid of honor and the best man was Mr. Frank Duewer a brother of the bride. As the company guests assembled Miss Elizabeth Horn at the organ gave a program of several selections and the notes of the bridal chorus from Lohengrin were heard as the wedding party approached the altar. The recessional was the Mendelssohn march.

Immediately after the ceremony the wedding party went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Pfeffer where a reception was held and friends and relatives joined in extending their congratulations. Later the bride and groom drove to Springfield in an automobile and from that city went to St. Louis for a brief wedding journey.

The bride's gown was of white charmesse trimmed in white marl, thorough lace. Her veil was of tulle and she carried a bouquet of bride's roses intertwined with maiden-hair ferns. The gifts were of an elegance which gave evidence of the high esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Long are held by their friends. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Duewer of Waverly and has spent the greater part of her life in Morgan county. She is a young woman of many charms and more than the usual interest is attached to her wedding day.

Mr. Long is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Long of New Berlin. For the past two years he has served as a pharmacist in the Jacksonville store of M. E. Gilbert and his record here has been such as to give him the confidence and esteem of all who know him. After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Long will come to Jacksonville and their home will be at 130 Diamond court.

FIFTY-ONE YEARS A HARDWARE MAN.

The November number of the "Sample Case", a magazine devoted to traveling men, contains a portrait and article regarding Henry M. Gay, superintendent of the Philip Gross Hardware company of Milwaukee. The gentleman has been in the hardware business fifty-one years, ever since going to Milwaukee where he now resides. He is a brother of Geo. S. Gay of this city and the article speaks of him in a highly complimentary manner. For thirty-seven years he was a traveling salesman and then the offer of a good position in a desirable house induced him to settle down which is not always easy for a man who has been on the road so much.
